Pediatric Infectious Disease Physician

Phoenix, Arizona

DMG will have an opening for a Pediatric Infectious Disease physician beginning in March 2020. The position will be .9 FTE in infectious disease and infection control and .1 in general inpatient pediatrics. The physician will practice at the Arizona Children’s Center at Valleywise Health Medical Center in Phoenix, AZ. VHMC is a large, tertiary care teaching hospital with a Level I Trauma Center and Burn Center, the second largest in the country. Arizona Children’s Center at VHMC provides extensive primary care (60,000+ visits/year) in its system of clinics, a Pediatric Emergency Department, tertiary inpatient care (NICU and PICU) and an active pediatric residency program in affiliation with Phoenix Children’s Hospital. The position would include employment through District Medical Group (DMG), a 450+ physician multi-specialty group exclusively contracted to provide patient care and medical education at VHMC.

Candidates must have a M.D. or D.O. degree, valid Arizona license, completed a Pediatric Infectious Disease Fellowship in an accredited program and be BC/BE in Pediatrics and Pediatrics Infectious Diseases. Candidate will also participate in the management of the infection control program and the hospital’s antibiotic stewardship program. The microbiology lab at VHMC is equipped with the latest technology in diagnostics.

DMG offers an outstanding work environment, a competitive compensation / benefits package including paid time off, CME allowance and medical malpractice insurance.

Please email CV to practice@dmg.org

EOE