Faculty Positions in the Division of Infectious Diseases and Global Health, Department of Pediatrics, UCSF School of Medicine and UCSF Benioff Children’s Hospitals

The Division of Infectious Diseases and Global Health in the Department of Pediatrics at the University of California San Francisco is inviting applications for two faculty positions.

The UCSF Benioff Children’s Hospital now comprises two campuses, one in the Mission Bay area of San Francisco (BCHSF) and another at Children’s Hospital Oakland (BCHO). Our division is looking to recruit a faculty member for each campus. The positions will be primarily clinical, including inpatient and outpatient activities. For the position at BCHSF, we seek candidates with interest and experience in caring for immunocompromised children (both transplant and primary immunodeficiency). For the position at BCHO, we seek candidates with interest and experience in Infection Prevention. However, both positions have flexibility and could accommodate other activities, including roles in education and/or antimicrobial stewardship. While we anticipate hiring into Assistant or Associate Professor rank in the faculty series, we are open to candidates of any experience level.

We plan to use the following web portal for applications to both positions (though you will note it was created for the BCHSF position) https://aprecruit.ucsf.edu/JPF02568

Theodore Ruel MD
Chief, Division of Pediatric Infectious Diseases and Global Health
University of California, San Francisco (UCSF)
Theodore.ruel@ucsf.edu

https://pediatrics.ucsf.edu/infectious-diseases-and-global-health